I was interested in the short history of the West End in the July WEA Newsletter--along with George Bryan's note of comment. It is true that there were two active threats to the neighborhood's integrity: 1) Apartments built on former single-home lots on Summit and Brookstown demonstrated the inappropriate density allowed by zoning at that time. 2) DOT drew maps showing serious consideration of a road linking I-40 and US 52, and cutting right through Hanes Park. It's important, however, to note that our first coming together was not purely defensive.

At that time, I lived on Brookstown and worked at the Glade Street YWCA, and Ellie Clayton lived at the corner of Jersey and Pilot View. We sent our kids around West End with flyers advertising a pot-luck dessert, to be held at the YWCA on May 21, 1969. The City Recreation Department used to end their summer children's program at Hanes Park with a family picnic, so we knew our neighbors enjoyed gathering. We scheduled Dan Ashe of the W-S Housing Foundation to talk about remodeling older houses for re-sale--as attractive HOMES, not boarding houses--but the fellowship of meeting neighbors was our primary aim. Our conversations at the dessert, though, clarified that we needed to organize, so that group planned a follow-up meeting for becoming an Association.

The history of the successful re-zoning effort (and later Historic District designation) is pretty well known. No wonder that we in West End felt as if the many active neighborhood associations that began to appear were our "offspring" in some way. What may not be as well remembered are the social and family pleasures of our early meetings. It was not all "fight the invaders." Then, as now, we were gratified with the community spirit of West End. One fond memory is of a spontaneous "talent show" when (after a pot-luck supper meeting at the YWCA) the children entertained themselves by taking turns playing up on the stage. Serendipity! Not showing off, just fun--and more pleasant than if we had planned for it.

It's terrific to see the continuing health of the West End Association. Such organizations naturally have cycles of energy, but the community remains vibrant and alert for ways to enhance the environment, property values, and neighborly relationships.

Viva West End!

A Word from our Co-presidents:
 West Enders,
 We enjoyed seeing and meeting many neighbors at the July 4th event at the Tise House on Grace Court. There was dynamite food, great music and wonderful conversation. You could tell it was a great event by the amount of drips on the children's shirts! We enjoyed having the fire department and a representative from the police there. Many neighbors brought friends. Some of these neighbors even asked if this was all right – of course it is! We enjoy neighbors sharing their neighborhood with others. I would like to thank Stuart and Andrea Thomas for their work and thank the Board members and many others who made this a success. We had so much fun that we are very excited about the upcoming West End ArtsFest this fall (more news to come).

Just a note about some other historic neighborhoods: I had a chance to spend time in Rye and Harrison, New York over the weekend and was interested to see the newest fad in driveway treatments. It has become more and more common to lay cobblestone in the first six to ten feet of a driveway. It really gives the property a new feel, particularly as you pass on the street or walk on the sidewalk. Not only does it look good but seems to hold up very well. More cobblestones!
